DAILY REFLECTION

Dear God, we acknowledge that the land on which we gather is part of the Treaty Lands and Territory of the Mississaugas of the Credit. We acknowledge and express gratitude to the Mississauga's of the Credit First Nation of the Anishinaabek Peoples who continue to share their ancestral lands with us.

In the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Amen

A reading from the Gospel of St. Luke

Jesus began to speak first to his disciples, 'Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees, that is, their hypocrisy. Nothing is covered up that will not be uncovered, and nothing secret that will not become known. Therefore whatever you have said in the dark will be heard in the light, and what you have whispered behind closed doors will be proclaimed from the housetops.'

Have you ever told a classmate, who you think is your friend, a secret then find that secret has made it online? Or, have you cheated your way through tests and papers, to realize you have not learned anything. You know the moment, when you don't have that building block of knowledge and skill to understand what is going on in your current class. These are examples of how we think we can get away with cheating someone or hurting someone without consequences. But, I know from experience, everyone, in some way or another faces those consequences in ways greater than just getting caught.

In matters of faith, we hear that is not how God's mercy and justice works. Jesus reminds us that everything you have done to hinder someone, physically, socially, and spiritually will always be discovered. It might take time, but truth always finds a way for the one to take responsibility. The best part is, when that person is ready to face the consequences of their actions, God does not abandon us to suffer alone, but offers us his ear to listen and a hand to guide us back to claim our goodness in the Lord.

Let us pray for the times we forget to follow God's will and in time, may we who have turned away from God make amends. Let us never take our lives lightly but remain examples of God's love and mercy for all. For peace in Ukraine. I pray you remember that of course may the word of Jesus at the Ascension, resound in your heart and lips, "remember I am with you always till the end of days. Amen. In the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Amen.
