

The Fault in Our Stars, by John Michael Greene, is an amazing, life-changing novel. As soon as you begin reading, you will fall in love with the characters. It follows the life of Hazel who has to breathe through an oxygen tank because her lungs are filled with water. She is a very motivated young lady despite her condition. She goes to a cancer support group where she meets Augustus Waters, later to be her boyfriend. This book is full of wonder and surprises; it was a great read. I even have a copy at home. John Greene is a great writer and I thank the FMG book club for suggesting his book to me. Read it and also watch the movie coming soon, in June.
